NO. 460

2010 Annual Returns and Work Packages

The 2010 Annual Returns must be received by Grand Lodge on or before the 15th of March. Remember to include the lodge financial disclosure worksheet as it is part of the Annual Return. Lodges must also complete the IRS 990n if their gross receipts are less than $50,000.00, and a copy of the IRS receipt must be submitted to Grand Lodge. Other lodges may be required to submit a 990EZ or 990. Lodges shall pay $3.00 per day late fine for each day after March 15th, and shall not be allowed to sit or participate in Grand Lodge until it has complied.

Here be Dragons

Or more correctly the Latin phrase hic sunt dracones is the chilling warning written by early mapmakers at the edges of their known world. Venturing into these regions could have been a terrifying prospect for early explorers as tales of monsters and evil magic fired their imaginations.

It seems that Masonry also abounds with such thoughts but, fear not we shall banish this from the land and dispel these misconceptions!

How often do you hear someone criticize something before they ask questions and try to understand why and how often do you hear someone offer up their opinion as fact when in reality it is just an assumption. Very often there are those who promote their preconceived ideas as the only view that is possible.

We can see this in many applications within our Fraternity. There are those who would insist that the title for a Grand Master is always "Most Worshipful" and within our jurisdiction this is true but, within the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania the Grand Master is "Right Worshipful". There are those who would insist that a Lodge is "Tyled" by the Tyler to keep out cowens and eavesdroppers; yet within many jurisdiction a lodge is "Tiled" by the "Tiler." Yet another example is that in some jurisdictions a member might be issued a Demit, while in our jurisdiction as well as many others members are issued a Dimit.

Sometimes it's just a matter of understanding the traditions and protocol of a specific organization and or its local nuances and colloquialisms. Or perhaps a word or term needs to be understood as it is used or when applied as a "standard" or "hallmark".

Recently someone commented that they thought that the term "possible or probable match" was absurd and that they felt it being used as inconclusive. However the term "possible match", when viewed as it is used within that specific industry is actually a "standard" industry term meaning 99.99% probable or confidence in, or stated another way that there is less than 1% of inaccuracy.

Frequently we find those who get themselves and other caught up in the "Chicken Little" syndrome rather than find out the meaning or truth they want to convince others to run with them and tell everyone that the sky is falling. As Masons in the second degree we learn about the seven liberal arts and sciences and we should understand both logic and rhetoric. So yes "Here be Dragons" ... but don't be afraid of them or be consumed by them.

KING SOLOMON'S YACHT CLUB

By: Pete Normand, College Station, Tx

This is the story of a young man who, not unlike many young men today, being fairly new in town and having settled into his new job, was told by a friend about a club, The King Solomon's Yacht Club, and decided to join. He had owned a sailboat as a boy and had always enjoyed sailing. Being the gregarious sort and feeling a need to fill his free hours with worthwhile endeavors, he decided to join. On the first meeting night he attended, the members assembled with their wives and had a wonderful meal followed by a business meeting. The business got a bit tedious at times, long recitation of minutes, arguing over bills and expenses, etc. But at length it came time to announce the new members, and he was brought before the assembly and introduced. The "Skipper" of the club rose to his feet and asked him the customary test question. "What do you most desire?" Taken somewhat by surprise, the young man thought for a moment and then answered, "To sail the sea!"

"To sail the sea!" the members echoed as they rose to their feet and raised their glasses in a toast to their newest member. "To sail the deep blue sea!" And they all joined in a rousing chorus of "Anchors Aweigh." He was instructed to come on Saturday ready to work, and this he did. As he boarded the old vessel that the club kept in dry dock, he was handed a bucket and brush and a handful of rags and was set to work polishing the brightwork from stem to stern. He worked hard from sunup to sundown polishing every bit of brass no matter how small. Some of the fixtures no longer served any purpose and might have been better preserved in a nautical museum, leaving the boat more streamlined for sailing, but he didn't complain nor shirk his duty but appeared for work on time every Saturday for a month until the work was finished. On the fifth Saturday he came early. "Surely today we will go sailing," he thought.

The boat was now completely seaworthy and ready for the water. "Sailing?" the skipper asked in surprise. "Sailing? This is no time for play, my boy! There's work to be done." And he was handed the same bucket and brush and was put back to work on the same familiar pieces of brightwork that he had laboured over for the past month. Well, I don't need to tell you this boat hadn't been on the water for many years, and with the current members probably would not again for many more. Our young friend soon became disenchanted with a yacht club that did not sail, and he dropped his membership.

But it wasn't too long until another friend told him about another club, the "Blue Skies Flying Club." He had always been fascinated with airplanes and had thought that one day he might earn his pilot's license, and so this seemed to be the perfect opportunity. He accompanied his new friend to the next meeting of the club where the members assembled with their wives and had a wonderful meal followed by a business meeting. The business got a bit tedious at times, long recitation of minutes, arguing over bills and expenses, etc. But a length it came time to announce the new members, and he was brought before the assembly and introduced. The "Commander" of the Club rose to his feet and asked the customary test question, "What do you most desire?" Taken somewhat by surprise, the young man thought for a moment and then answered, "To fly!"

"To fly!" the members echoed and rose to their feet, raising their glasses in a toast to the new member. "To fly the wild blue yonder!" To his surprise he wasn't given any work to do, but was encouraged and reminded to attend all the meetings of the club which he did faithfully. Soon he began to ask around and was surprised to learn that the club had no airplane. Many of the members were old Air Forces pilots but no one had a current pilot's license. He made a few suggestions to the older members. He suggested they find an old warhorse and fix it up, or take classes and renew their licenses. At the very least they could have some programs at their monthly meetings and have speakers come and talk about airplanes.

The topics would be interesting and informative, airplanes of World War I, the Lafayette Escadrille, airplanes of World War II, the Battle of Britain, The Flying Tigers, The Black Sheep Squadron, etc, etc. Finally the older members tired of his suggestions and took him aside and explained they were not interested in flying or airplanes, that he was just making trouble. They were perfectly happy meeting once a month, eating spaghetti, arguing over bills and playing dominoes. If he was interested in flying he should go somewhere else besides the "Blue Skies Flying Club."

Well, I don't need to tell you that our young friend soon became disenchanted with a flying club that cared nothing about flying or airplanes and he dropped his membership.

But it wasn't too long until he met another new friend who was a very active Mason. The young man was not unfamiliar with the Fraternity. His father, grandfathers and uncles had all been Masons, and he had always been intrigued by what Masonic philosophy and symbolism he had heard and seen. He thought one day he might become a Mason and better himself by gaining Masonic enlightenment. He asked the right questions, returned his petition and was elected to membership. On the night of his initiation he presented himself at the lodge and was brought before the membership. At one point of the ceremony the Worshipful Master of the lodge asked him the customary question, "What do you most desire?" Not the least bit surprised, the young man forthrightly answered without any prompting, "Light, Masonic Light!"

Now if you have been following along you surely know this is not the end of the story. Either the young man did or did not receive what he came looking for. Who is the young man? He is every member of your lodge, and of my lodge, and of every lodge in the country. Does he receive Masonic Light at your lodge, interesting programs at your monthly stated meetings, or does he receive a plate of spaghetti, a long recitation of minutes and an argument about the utility bill?
